Dear Diary -
The calendar says that today is May 31 1946 - Oh graduation day! It's funny, but I never thought I'd really regret leaving R. M. S. I was always too busy thinking how thrilled I'd be as I marched down the aisle
in that coveted cap and gown.
But now - Gosh! I'm sorta scared. When I think about leaving all the kids and the good times - why - I'd just give anything to be able to start all over again - Of course
I can't, but I'm thankful I've kept a record of those happy times - So - thanks to you - Dear Diary - Suave Senior

Dear Diary -
Today was really a red letter day.
If you see, we voted at Hi-Noc-Ar meeting on the person to whom we wanted to dedicate the annual! And was I excited! When the ballots were counted and Jack announced that Miss Kitchen was selected unanimously, you should have heard the applause - Here it is the official dedication -

"In gratitude for her guidance of the Student organization and for her invaluable aid throughout all phases of school life, we, the staff of the 1946 Hi-Noc-Ar, do herby dedicate this Annual to Miss Kate Oakes Kitchen. Vanguard of the students, always ready to advise or defend them, Miss Kitchen has been one of the directing forces of our high school career.
We sincerely hope that this dedication shows our deep appreciation for her work."

DEDICATION

MISS KATE PARKS KITCHIN

Dear Diary - Next year there will be strange new ones for me to acquaint myself with. I won't be surrounded by the familiar Faculty of dear old A. M. S. S.

I'm sure glad I've kept pictures of all of my teachers.
Just looking at them brings back memories, - pleasant and unpleasant.
There have been times when I thought - "surely they're crazy."
but I realize now that they were a strong influence in directing me towards a fitting career.

So here's a hearty thanks to the teachers for trying so hard with me when it seemed so hopeless - and I'll be back to visit them next year. Susie

Dear Diary -
It's fall again, and that means school - new friends, new teachers, and new games!
How I love football! I can remember so clearly my first night football game as a member of the Q. M. S. S.
Student Body. Was I thrilled?
All those bright lights, the band, and the cheerleaders -
and those football heroes!
Oh - - - I saw a group of freshmen gazing raptly at one of the Blackbirds and I asked myself: "Has I ever that stupid?" I must have been because I was a freshman for two years. Sue -

Dear Diary,
You'd never believe it,
but it's the honest truth - Today I was tapped for National Honor Society! I could I was so surprised I could hardly walk up on the stage!
I've been so busy with Service

Student Organization

The work of the Student Organization is a familiar phase of school life to most of the students in our high school. Some know it as the sponsor of a dance in the gym; some see it in the operation of the concessions stands during the football games; some notice it in the traffic committee. But however it influences their school lives, all the boys and girls here are acutely conscious of its presence.

It has been the custom of the Student Organization in past years to spread its program out over an area wide enough to induce as many students as possible to take part in its affairs. That is its object—to teach them through participation. Through its groups of officers, the general organization, Class, and Homeroom, and through its assembly, the organization strives in every way to better the circumstances throughout the entire year program.

Some of its outstanding features are: (1) It provides opportunity for the practice of good citizenship both to the leader and to the private citizen. (2) It serves as a medium for the expression of student opinion in relation to the policies of the school. (3) It sets up the machinery through which all school elections are held on the basis of fair play secured in the use of the secret ballot. (4) It cooperates in setting up standards of acceptable conduct in the auditorium, in the classroom—in all phases of school life. (5) It strives to develop an appreciation of beauty and a sense of property rights through the House and Grounds Committee and the Lost and Found Committee. (6) It is the inspiration for and the unifying element of the social program of the school. (7) It arranges for assembly programs. (8) It suggests and cooperates in enforcing traffic regulations in the halls of the school buildings. (9) It schedules and executes all Fire Drills. (10) It cooperates in publicizing the work and activities of the school. (11) It investigates the advisability of new organizations or policies within the school. (12) Through the Junior Red Cross and other affiliated groups it provides the opportunity for cooperation with civic projects. (13) It fosters democracy in all school relationships.

Living in democracy, a democracy which is meeting such a challenge as ours is today, all of us realize the necessity for understanding just what principals form the basis of our way of life. We believe in democracy, in fair government, in representation, and in equal opportunities. We want to learn its methods, to teach ourselves to apply them in actual experience. The channels through which these efforts can flow are found in our student organization. It is a worthy part of our school life, and to function effectively, it must have the cooperation of all the students in our school.

The Blackbird

The Blackbird, the Rocky Mount High School newspaper, has been published this year by a group of interested students, who made up the Journalism Club, with the invaluable aid of the second year typing class.

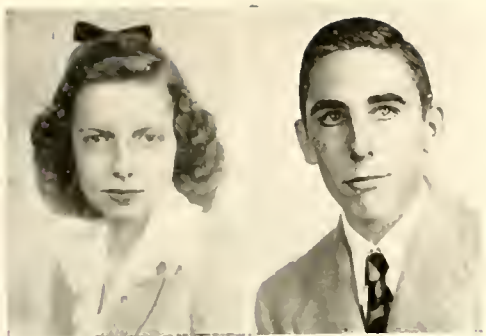

It has been the purpose of the Blackbird staff to publish accurate facts and ideas that interest the majority of the student body. Since the paper has come out on an average of once every three weeks, the facts have not always been "news" in the strictest sense. For this reason the paper serves better as a record of the outstanding events and activities of the various departments, clubs, and classes of the school. The budding as well as the fading romances, have been noted and recorded. Many times this section has really offered "news" to the parties concerned, and observation has shown the interest element exceedingly high.

This year the paper was mimeographed, but "we want a printed paper" is our battle cry until that purpose is achieved.

THE HI-NOC-AR STAFF

From about the middle of April, the Hi-Noc-Ar Staff has become more and more crazy because of hundreds of students who approach at all hours of the day and night to find out "When is the Hi-Noc-Ar coming out?" Maybe now the staff can sleep nights because it finally is "out".

Here it is—your Hi-Noc-Ar, 1946! The staff has willingly given its time and effort to the publication of this senior annual and they hope that all of the students will enjoy the book as much as they enjoyed working on it.

We've Got A Team!

We've Got A Yell!

and we've got teams that fight like nobody's business.

This year's athletic teams may not have been the juggernauts of last year, but they have been the "fightingest" teams in the state. It would be hard to pick standouts from any of the teams but we would like to give an extra pat on the back to Lyman for some fine running, Fred for some fine blocking, and Cotton and Alvin for going all out and making this a three letter year for them.

Little need be said about the cheerleaders because undoubtedly you've heard a great deal from them. They were really on the ball this year and fought just as hard as the teams.

Extra mention goes to Joe Chambliss, this being his third year as cheerleader, second as head cheerleader. We know it was difficult for Joe to keep his mind on his business with that bevy of beauties about but he did turn in a swell job of leading those cheers.

Combined Hi-Y Clubs

The name Hi-Y, represents a movement of high school youth of the Young Men's Christian Association committed to a Christian purpose at work in the high school and in the community.

The Clubs' symbol is a triangle. One side represents the spiritual development of the members; another the physical development, and another the mental development. The Hi-Y Clubs—Senior Girls, Junior Girls, and Boys—endeavor to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character. With its (their) platform of clean living—clean speech—clean athletics—clean scholarship, the Hi-Y Clubs try to train our students to be better citizens of the future. They try to bring together boys and girls who are vitally interested in Christian standards for personal living and for school life, and to provide for these boys and girls channels through which they may explore the problems that face high school youth today. After they have studied these problems, the Hi-Y helps them to mobilize their efforts to put into effective action Christian solutions to those problems.

"THROUGH THE

No wonder Al McCotter is so tall! There he stands as big as life in the front of the lunch line—He evidently believes that "first come is first served". Our guess is that he makes the journey "down the line" at least twice. Wonder what Arthur Fountain is trying to do? Looks like he's ready to lead the conga line instead of the lunch line. The flash bulb evidently startled James Price. Look at that expression!

Well—here we are in the arcade. Jack Bailey (having heard that Bugs would be in the arcade) lined himself against the wall and stood there to be sure he'd get in the picture. Doris Johnson takes it very calmly and doesn't even bother to look toward the camera. She's no publicity hound! Bill Overman is in such a hurry to meet Shirley, he doesn't even know a picture is being taken. And take a look at Misses Gehman, Walston, and Hames! Someone must have shouted "eyes right"—or could it be that T. D. Womble is more attractive to them than the camera. Way back at the back we see Bobby Williams, and with him (of course) is Angelane Whitfield.

James Wordsworth and Fred Thompson must have been "demoted". Here they are eating with the grammar grade students. Fred evidently wants folks to think that he's been working hard backstage. Just take a look at those overalls. Martha is resting—evidently too tired to ask "white or whole wheat"?

YEAR AT R. M. H. S.

If this isn't a typical shot, we give up! Fred Best and Janet Large might well be teamed Mr. and Miss. Rocky Mount High School—Both are outstanding students, and very popular—not to mention the fact that they are constantly in each others company. Dot Starling looks mighty serious for some reason. As far as we are concerned the gentlemen marching away from us can remain unidentified. Do you know who they are? Maybe it's you!

Believe it or not, that is Miss "Murk" over there in her role of visiting elocution teacher to the Friday afternoon "speaking" she is illustrating the proper way to recite "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight"—With gestures—if you please! Pete Christian, black eye and all, seems to be held spellbound!

And now (as they say in the movies) here is the modern way of doing things. There's Kemp Dozier and Ben Yelverton evidently trying to perfect a new atomic bomb.

Dear Dean,
Christmas is almost here
and the school is throbbing with excitement. Rehearsals are under way for the last assembly program before the holidays. From the band room comes the cheery sound of "Jingle Bells"; then the softer, sweeter tones of "Silent Night." The social committee is scurrying about in the gym putting the last of the bright ornaments on the giant Christmas tree. Tonight is the night of the Christmas dance. Yes. I can hardly wait!

"THROUGH THE

Well, according to the picture at bottom left, we caught Crady Elmore trying to talk Azile Williford out of a nickle to buy a drink—Shame, Grady! Oh—and in the corner the Teen Age Club quarter-backs are nashing over the mistakes of the last game.

Coming on up we see dancing couples at that good Christmas Dance. It was really a pip and every one enjoyed themselves.

Speaking of enjoying themselves, there's George Wilkinson and the rest of the wolfpack waiting to dive into the food that the refreshment committee prepared and served so well.

Right above is the "Banquet of the Year" for the football team. The Good Sports and Cheerleaders did a take off on the trip to New Jersey. They say Peggy Price mocked Coach right to a T.

YEAR AT R. M. H. S.

Over here we finally got a shot of Miss Lou talking to some of her girls. Miss Lou has done a fine job here and we don't know what we'd do without her.

That backyard shot was from the Library window. R. L. Chick pestered us so to be in a picture that we told him we were going to take this one. Try and find him!

Just to prove that nothing is impossible if you have faith we got this picture of Weasel Page's puppy, Bill. Bill broke up classes for nearly a week and since so many students ran around trying to see him, we decided to give you a break.

Poor Edgar, with just two of us there for the picture, he still had trouble getting the assembly to "come to order," for ye editor and ye photographer were beating their gums as usual.

Dear Diary - yeah maybe that's what's wrong with me. I can't seem to do anything except daydream.
The Seniors are really the biggest
now. The Senior Play was given the other night. The Home Economics Department is fitting us for those hard worked-for cap and gown; plus are lined up for class night; and the Juniors have begun on the big affair of the year - The Junior-Senior!!
Spring Fever is bound to be what ails me. The signs of Regalia has because the bobby-sox regalia has changed to pinafores. Boys have discarded high collars for T-shirts and what's more they even take us girls out every once in a while Boys starting to date more often is a sure sign of Spring. What's the saying about love and Spring?
"or Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to - - -" Lucie Senior

Who's Who at R. M. H. S.

Clear Sailing

Class '46

THE 1946 HI-NOC-AR

ROCKY MOUNT HIGH SCHOOL

FIGHT! TEAM! FIGHT! MRS. W. L. DRAPER

They say new teachers start to work with big ideas and end up with sleepless nights, Mrs. Draper is no exception. When she first joined the faculty of R. M. H. S., she became adviser for the Good Sports and Cheerleaders.

The football boys, those who felt the results of her work are high in their praise for the splendid job she did with the cheerleaders and for the exceptionally fine banquet that the Good Sports staged at the end of the year.

GLYNN JENNETTE

"Hi School Kaitenborn"
Although no statistics are available we wouldn't be a bit surprised if our Glynn isn't the only student in the state who has her own 15 minute broadcast. Yes every Saturday morning over WEED at 10:15.

Add this experience to an excellent career on the R. M. H. S. stage and one is quick to predict a promising future for Glynn in the entertainment world.

BABY BIRD NO. 1 GEORGE FARMER

The unofficial mascot of the Rocky Mount Athletic teams is blond haired, blue eyed George Farmer. Professional football and farming are his key ambitions. As for the females George says "I ain't got one right now but I'm gonna get one". At any game you find George helping the manager and patiently waiting until he can officially join our student body.

ONE OF THE BOYS

Mr. Johnson is definitely a "must" on our personality page. No one has come to Rocky Mount High and stepped in the position of "Pal of the Students" as swiftly as our principal. You who have wondered at his immense interest in the lives of the students have a right to be put in the know so there's the inside dope in "One of the Boys".

Daniel Sloan Johnson came into the world on November 28, 1900 (he's just a kid, isn't he?). He attended Burgaw High School, then went to Duke University (then Trinity). He graduated from Duke in 1924, and received his M. A. in 1929. Oxford Orphanage had the benefits of his services as principal for fifteen years, then he went to Oxford High for one year. Since then Rocky Mount has become his home and we hope he'll better his Oxford Orphanage record.

Sports have played a big part in Mr. Johnson's life. It is easy to see why Mr. Johnson is right here yelling even louder than the next fellow. Mr. Johnson's secret of success is a combination of firmness and firmness.

Even though it might be about five years late, Rocky Mount welcomes you, Mr. Johnson and we hope we can prove as true friends to you as you are to us.

UNSUNG HEROINE LOUISE ROBINSON

Neatly dressed in sweater and skirt, Louise represents the typical high school girl. Typical yes in cheerfulness, in dependability, in high scholarship, and in good citizenship. It is such typical students who create and maintain the good name of the high school.

We take our hats off to a fine school spirited girl, and thank her for her excellent service in R. M. H. S.

Autograph Hound DeLuxe FREDA PARHAM

Life Magazine might write up Brooklyn autograph hunters because they've got the John Hancock of the Big Wigs in a book, but Life can't beat our Freda Parham, who has the autographs of the Local 400 in Plaster of Paris.

Freda began her collection shortly after Thanksgiving when her leg was put in a cast.

The interns at Duke admired the cast so much that they took it off and gave her a new one. Freda has made a good start on this second one and if you want your name on it you'd better work fast. We hope that by the time of publication, Freda's unusual occupation will be on the shelf-but right now we'd like to say "Hats off to the autograph Hound DeLuxe."

"UNCLE WILL"

You might as well try to picture R. M. H. S. minus a faculty and student body, as to think of it without the services of Uncle Will Pittman. Uncle Will is eighty one years old, and has been janitor for thirty-five years. During that time the school has changed from twelve rooms to our modern plant of today.

R. M. H. S. wishes you the best Uncle Will.

"THROUGH THE

This page might well be called "a session with the Dramatics Department Starting at the bottom and working up we see the cast of You'll Die Laughing including Pete Booth with his tongue hanging out and even Simon Legree Brown.

Next is the cast of the Comedy The Patsy. This was great fun even if Nadia Daughtridge did get ostracized for the next couple of weeks, "I lose so darn many friends that way".

There's a picture of the "powers behind the throne", the stage crew. It's hard work and dirty work but it's still necessary work. Fun is mixed with it though if you call what James Wordsworth is doing fun.

Lover Mixon and Baby Snooks Rosenbloom ganged up on Andrew for the production of Little Pitchers. This play was a fine surprise and Christmas present to the student body.

YEAR AT R. M. H. S.

The above is a shot of the first script reading of the year. Since that beginning, during American Education Week, the Dramatics and Speech Department has put on many fine programs.

The story of "home town boy" makes good, will soon get monotonous in Rocky Mount. Of course, Pete Corbett, upper right, isn't worth a couple of million dollars yet, like Kyser, but give him time. Since this picture was made, I understand that Pete has returned to WEED and is doing a bang-up job out there.

That picture in the band room was taken just a little too early. Right after we left, the boys started jazzing it up, and I don't mean maybe.

In the shot at lower right, you see one of the most important departments in R. M. H. S., although probably the least recognized. In case you don't know, that's the mimeographing room where practically all of the dirty work in school is done. Those ink-eaters have done a fine job this year, and we're happy to praise them.

Dear Diary, The Di-Noc-er came out today, and we all think it's sweet! The pictures are grand-all except mine - I look simply awful! Or maybe it looks just like me, and that's what's wrong! I heard Harold say that the staff
had secured more ads than ever. What would we do without the merchants?
Well, diary - this ends my school year, and I think it's been the best yet. Vacation is here - "No more pencils, no more books" - Or to the swimming pool - Till next year - and college - So long,
dear diary. Susie

Dear Jean,

Will this complete our eleventh year in school together, and we certainly have had fun. I won't even forget our school days. Heris hoping we will have lots of fun together next year, and I wish you the best of luck in the future in school of course, and also with Kelly, Red, and Jerry. "I wonder which will be the lucky one." Well, you said I had to stop, so I will.

A friend always,

Evelyn

You are a real sweet girl and I like you lots. Best of Everything always.
